

Scandic

All roads lead to Scandic Continental. It's the place for people to meet, and meetings lie at the heart of Stockholm's most central business hotel.

It's here that urban transport connects, bringing the Swedish capital closer to the world.

Fly straight in from New York for a meeting without even having to put your coat on – the Central Station exit brings you directly into the hotel building. Stay with us for an hour or more than a week – we have flexible meeting facilities suitable for a quick interview as well as a conference with several hundred people. Food and drink with your wellbeing in focus is naturally only an order away, day and night.

And while staying connected is a must, being able to switch off is just as important.

Start the day on the roof with a yoga session on our sun deck. Then unwind with colleagues or friends in our rooftop bar, where you can find Stockholm's most incredible view over the cityscape, bridges and glittering water.

A meeting can be and lead to so much and our metropolitan oasis is the most central place to meet. Welcome to Scandic Continental.
